Dwight Elmendorf Thursday.

At the New National Theater Thursday afternoon Dwight Elmendorf will present his new travel talk "Southern India." This will be the first of three lectures on the great Indian empire.

To the observant traveler India offers a thousand contrasts, and everything from people to trees, animals and buildings is strange and new. All the climates and all the scenery of the world may be found there, from the hottest regions of the equator to perpetual snow and ice, from vast river deltas rising only a few inches above the level of the sea to the highest mountains on earth, the lofty Himalayas and Mount Everest, more than 29,000 feet high.

The first stage of Mr. Elmendorf's journey will carry him from Tutinor to Bampur, a distance of nearly a thousand miles and covering a portion of the great peninsula which, although little traveled, has a picturesque charm that is unlike any other portion of the vast continent.

Mme. Yorska Thursday.

Mme. Yorska, who is to take the leading part in "Le Mari Amoureux de Sa Femme," translated by the Italian ambassador, Marquis Cusani Confalonieri.

was a pupil of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. She was brought to this country by Mrs. Philip Lydie to play in "Judith" and has since joined the French Drama Society of New York, under whose auspices the ambassador's play is to be presented for two matinees at the Belasco Theater Thursday and Friday, February 26 and 27.

Mme. Yorska has played with success this winter in New York in "La Rafale," "La Vierge Folle" and "La Gioconda," all produced by the drama society, for the uplift of the French drama in this country. She is to be supported by Jose Ruben as leading man. He was for five years with the Theater Sarah Bernhardt in Paris and has won laurels as an actor in this country. He has played leading roles with Mme. Yorska this winter for the French Drama Society. Among others to appear in the play will be Paul Gordon, an American, brought up in Paris; Andre Loir, M. Grevin and Mme. Nane Defrance.

Lucien L. Bonheur, president of the French Drama Society, is taking personal charge of the production and some of the ladies of the diplomatic corps and Washington society will act as patronesses.

"Hearts Adrift."
In the film, "Hearts Adrift," at the Garden next week, Mary Pickford portrays the role of Nina, a little Spanish girl washed ashore on an uninhabited South Sea island, the sole survivor of a shipwreck. The program each day will include two other films. Saturday there will be the first and only showing of "The House of Mystery."

"The Grain of Dust."
James K. Hackett will appear at the Columbia Theater the week beginning March 2, in "The Grain of Dust," a play in four acts, by Louis Evan Shipman. It is founded on David Graham Phillips' novel of the same name. It has to do with Frederick Norman, a brilliant corporation lawyer in New York, whose talents are in great demand to steer high financiers safely through technicalities.

Baumgardt Lectures.
Mr. B. R. Baumgardt, who appears at the Belasco Theater Sunday evenings during March, has achieved fame with his illustrated lectures. He is intensely includes most of the players in the initial production.

To Present Shaw Play.
Next Tuesday evening the Players' Group of the Drama League will give for the first time in Washington, George Bernard Shaw's satirical play "Press Cuttings," which has lately caused considerable comment in London on account of its free treatment of the predicament of the British government under the attacks of the militant suffragists and the demand of the national defense advocates for a larger military establishment. This is the largest one-act play Shaw has ever written, and so direct is its travesty of officials that its production on the regular stage has been prohibited. The

"A Good Little Devil" in Films.
"Little Mary" Pickford in a screen version of David Belasco's "A Good Little Devil" will be seen at the National Theater for the first time Sunday, March 1. Miss Pickford presents in the camera production the role she originated before the footlights, and the supporting cast
